Open Trainings

Do you need training for a small number of people but still want the group experience? Do you want to train with people outside of your agency, or just don't want the hassle of scheduling private sessions? Open trainings are pre-scheduled virtual sessions that provide the same content, take-home resources, and CEU credits that private trainings do. No prerequisites or scheduling are required — if you work in supported employment, we'd love to see you there!

Email sgoldfarb@arcnj.org for more information about open trainings.

Interested but can't make it this month? Contact Samantha to make sure the next open training works with your schedule!

All trainings are customizable to fit your agency's needs. Change the length, add a topic, learn in a different way - the choice is yours!

We'd love to hear your ideas and feedback! Your input helps us create the best material possible for everyone who receives our trainings.

Not seeing what you're looking for? Let us make a training specific to your agency. If it's related to supported employment, we want to help!

TCS exists to help supported-employment providers and their staff provide the highest quality of support available to their clients. All services are completely free of charge. We'll teach you how to use realistic strategies to achieve the ideals of supported employment so that you can continue to provide the excellence in service that your clients deserve.
