

How To File A Disability Appeal Online

Securing today
and tomorrow

Before You Begin

Gather personal information:

Name, Social Security number, address, phone number, and date of denial decision.

Gather medical information:

- Name, address and phone number of someone who knows about the claimant's medical condition(s).
- Name, address, phone number of all health care providers including visit dates, treatments and tests since medical evidence was last provided.
- Claimant's medications (prescription or over-the-counter), reason for taking them, side effects, and name of medical provider(s) who recommended or prescribed them.

1

Go to SSA.gov/apply/appeal-decision-we-made and select the appropriate appeal level for your claim. Then select “Start disability request.”

2

Complete the identification, medical, and activities/training sections. Then review summary and make any necessary changes.

3

You will be assigned a reentry number that will allow you to stop and start the application prior to submission. Print the reentry number or have it emailed. You cannot re-enter the appeal without this number.

4

Claimant should electronically sign the Medical Release form. Attach supporting documents and Submit Appeal.

5

To check the status of your appeal, create or log in to your personal my Social Security account at ssa.gov/myaccount.

See what else you can do online!

SSA.gov

Social Security Administration | Publication No. 05-10607 | February 2023 (Recycle prior editions)
Produced at U.S. taxpayer expense

